Reflexology Association of Rhode Island

Why Join?

- Members receive a newsletter, containing current articles on Reflexology and related fields of study, book reviews and current research being conducted in the field of Reflexology.
- Members who attend meetings enjoy continuing education opportunities. Outside lecturers present various topics designed to enhance practitioner's awareness and skills of practice.
- RARI recognizes that there is also a lot of knowledge within its own membership and encourages each member to share his/her area of expertise by giving presentations to the group.
- Members receive membership certificates signed by the presiding president or secretary which verifies membership in their professional state organization. These may be displayed as desired.
- Further professionalism is demonstrated to your clients when they know you are affiliated with an organization dedicated to maintaining professional and ethical standards. It lets them know you are concerned about the field of reflexology and actively support its growth and development as well as your own continuing education.

As a member of an association, you are kept informed of the latest developments in the field through continuing education opportunities, conferences and newsletters.

When seeking any type of governmental recognition designed to protect your right to practice as a separate modality, the number of reflexologists represented on the local, national, and international levels in associations is important.

As groups look toward governmental approval, reflexology associations are becoming involved in the creation of coalitions with other modalities in the somatic practices field.

Reflexologists can support each other everywhere in the world through the strength of numbers created by membership in associations.

“We need your help to achieve these goals”

The Purpose

To monitor laws and regulations involving Reflexology within the State of Rhode Island, taking action at the State House level when other groups attempt to incorporate Reflexology under their auspices. This will protect the rights of members to practice as a self-governed profession.

To establish standards and ethics for the practitioner.

To promote continuing education so that the members may serve the best interest of their clients and the profession.

To promote Reflexology to the public and other health care professions as an integrative health practice.

To encourage communication and cooperation among its members and other Reflexology Associations within the United States and around the world.
